

As an IL citizen and active participant in government policy, I am requesting that we try to remove all partisanship from redistricting and include communities as the boundaries to choose. We need to get back to a government of the people and start to consider what the people need vs. what the party needs. Parties are interested in gathering wealth so they can dictate the choices of a few vs. communities who consider what they need to live and work well.

We need to have districts that reflect these times and work to bring us together for the good of the people and not special interests. The time for self preservation of certain politicians over the needs of all U.S. and State citizens is over.

Please thoughtfully consider the new boundaries so we all have a chance to make this country better.

Thank you.

Rosalyn

Rosalyn Ryan